The Plainsman

Published by the students of Nebraska Wesleyan University under the direction of Karen Norton, Editor; Lou Schweppe, Business Manager.

Enid Miller Hoffman was affectionately known as "Doc" to hundreds of people. She liked all kinds of people, and they liked her. She believed in people and showed that belief by giving them jobs to do, responsibilities to be lived up to, and trusts to be fulfilled. People stood taller because of her belief in them. "Doc" believed that "the show must go on." She did not just mean the show in her speech department and in the Plainsman Theater. She meant the whole Wesleyan show. She was loyal to the school—its ideals, its interests, and its program. Her interests were broad, and they live on in the hearts of her family and friends.

"Doc" Miller was well-known as a writer of plays. Two of her greatest are "The Lesser George," and "Manya," the story of the life of Madame Marie Curie, which she wrote in collaboration with her husband in 1942. Her latest work, "An Angel in the Sun," was produced last summer as the high spot in the Centennial celebration of the Methodist Church in Nebraska.

"Doc" enjoys a rare moment of rest.

Even on a cold winter day "Doc" could flash us a warm, sunny smile.

A proud and beaming "Doc" takes a curtain call with the cast of "The Lesser George." Some members of the faculty and alumni joined Wesleyan students to make the show a success. (The tall gentleman at her elbow is her husband, Mr. Wendell Hoffman.)

Chancellor Forrest, Mary, Mrs. Forrest, Jim and Aubrey

Nebraska Wesleyan is proud to have Dr. A. Leland Forrest as its new chancellor. "Chan," as he is known to faculty, students, and friends, is new only to this office, for he had served as Dean of the College for two years prior to becoming chancellor.

Our Chan is a busy man—capably handling the job of Wesleyan's top administrator, leading weekly prayer meetings, fulfilling outside speaking engagements, and being a family man. Yet he is never too busy for a warm greeting or a friendly chat with a fellow Wesleyanite. And we know that his deepest concerns are our problems, be they large or small.

Chan, we are glad to have you in the driver's seat.

The Inaugural Procession

CHANCELLOR A. LELAND FORREST

Row 1—Mr. L. R. King, Mr. James E. Bartley, Dean Dahl, Rev. F. C. Friederich

Row 3—Rev. James Chubb, Rev. Lowell Jones, Rev. B. A. Bessire, Rev. G. F. Allely, Mrs. Max Gentry, Rev. E. C. Williams, Rev. C. Edwin Murphy, Rev. F. E. Ploutz, Rev. Robert Townsend.

Mr. George Knight, president of the Board of Trustees, and Chancellor Forrest

The Board of Trustees of Nebraska Wesleyan is the governing body elected by the Nebraska Methodist Conference to hold and administer the affairs of the school. The administrative officials and all faculty members are elected by the Board, which also exercises general supervision of the investment program seeing that all money that comes into the hands of this institution is properly handled and accounted for. Since the Board has but three scheduled meetings during the year, much of the business is carried on by committees.

At the present time, the Board numbers 41 members. Sixteen must be ordained ministers of the Methodist church. Names are placed in nomination for the memberships by the Nebraska Annual Conference, by the Board of Trustees itself, and by the Alumni Association. These nominations are then acted upon at the regular annual meeting of the Nebraska Conference.

Seven new members elected to the Board this year are Mr. James Ackerman, Dr. Harold Bosley, Mr. Lester Dunn, Rev. Richard Miller, Rev. Gayle Moon, Rev. Robert Townsend, and Mrs. A. R. Marquardt.

SAM DAHL
Dean of the College

ETHEL JOHNSON
Dean of Women

MILTON EVANS
Dean of Men

Dean Sam Dahl is one of the busiest men at Wesleyan. Filling the capacities of Dean of the College, faculty advisor on the Student Senate, ex officio member of many campus boards and committees, and teacher, he is concerned with every phase of campus life. He is admired and well liked by everyone with whom he associates.

Many a bewildered freshman girl has walked with apprehension into the office, in Old Main, marked "Dean of Women." Until she meets our smiling Dean, the coed doesn't know what a wonderful friend and counselor Miss Johnson can be. She understands the problems of Wesleyan coeds well, and she is always eager to help the girls solve their problems. To aid the new women students, Dean Johnson directs an orientation program first semester.

Milton Evans, a newcomer to Wesleyan, has assumed the positions of Dean of Men and Head of the Department of Education. He is advisor for senior practice teachers and takes charge of job placement for boys. Dean Evans takes a friendly interest in students, both as individuals and as a group, and always finds time to assist worried students with their problems.

Although not pictured, the student secretaries are not forgotten. They put in a great deal of time and effort in helping to keep things running smoothly. They keep files and records, take care of mail, and do numerous other tasks.

Professors and administrators who hire these girls say they couldn't do without them. In fact, their only objection to student secretaries is that they graduate.

The cafeteria staff at Johnson Hall is headed by Mrs. June Menefee. Other staff members are Mrs. Dorothy Olper, Mrs. "Dot" Krantz, Mrs. Katherine Kirlin, Mrs. Hazel Stokes, Mr. Floyd Baker, Mrs. Louise Herzog. Not pictured are Mrs. Florence Earl, Mrs. Hazel Schauppa, Mrs. Irene Wuester.

Mr. Wilson Beaver is Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds, and "Snooper" is seemingly the mascot of the maintenance crew.

Standing—Mr. Joe Smith, Mr. Wilson Beaver, Mr. Fern Brown, Mr. Claude Bunting, Mrs. Roxie Cramer, Mr. Earl Messelhisier

Kneeling—Mr. John McAllister, Mr. James Varga

Not pictured—Miss Lucille Martin, Mr. Clyde Barnes, Mr. Melvin Taylor, Mr. Roscoe Anderson, Mr. Merlyn Clark, Mr. Ray Hamilton

Senior class officers are Blaine Rieke, president; Ray Kirk, secretary-treasurer; Bob Jeambey, orator; and Rex Bevins, chaplain.

The long-awaited June morning . . . graduate tries to listen to speaker, but mind wanders . . . recalls the ups and downs that are the memorable times at Nebraska Wesleyan University . . . that first lonely day, and now, reluctantly, he comes to the realization that it is all over . . . the endless lines during registration . . . Traditions Day . . . pep rallies . . . homecoming . . . the cold fingers and toes at football games . . . championship basketball and baseball teams . . . Christmas and Easter matins, chapels . . . spring tours . . . the crowning of the beauty queen at the Coronation Ball . . . the pageantry of Spring Fete . . . those sleepless nights and fears before the final exams; and then, when they are over, the empty feeling that this shall be no more . . . this is the end . . . but is it? . . . The sun is overhead now, not setting . . . there is a world of opportunity . . . and he is fortified to face the world, fortified with knowledge and understanding.

Marilyn Wagner, Carl Spencer, Bob Jewett, Earl Allison, and Aubrey Forrest talk with Dr. Callen to make final arrangements for project and course work in preparation for Washington Semester.

The five discuss veterans affairs with Phil Weaver, Nebraska Congressman.

Congressman "Bob" Harrison points out an item in a bill he is supporting.

washington semester

Five Wesleyan students, Marilyn Wagner, Earl Allison, Aubrey Forrest, Bob Jewett, and Carl Spencer spent the first semester in Washington, D. C. Under the auspices of the American University they studied the activities of our national government at first hand. This study of "government in action," plus nine or more hours of regular class work in the School of Social Sciences, together with a deliberate attempt to make use of the other unique intellectual and cultural opportunities in the capital city is the substance of Washington Semester.

Student Senate is the sounding-board for student opinion on campus matters. Senators are elected from the eight social organizations and from the group of independent students.

The freshmen first realize there is a senate when Traditions Day arrives in early fall, for it is the senate which has them wear odd clothes all that day and do silly things at a convocation. At homecoming the group is in charge of the homecoming queen's attendants from Wesleyan and the visiting college.

At Christmas the senate sponsors the Noel Observance.

An all-college formal dance—the Coronation Ball, at which the beauty queen is revealed and crowned—is sponsored by the senate in the spring. The group also directs the high school days program on which days students from high schools are Wesleyan's guests.

The year-long project of the Student Senate is to maintain the student union and snack bar. It also sponsors dances after games, exchange talent programs with other colleges in Nebraska, and free movies.

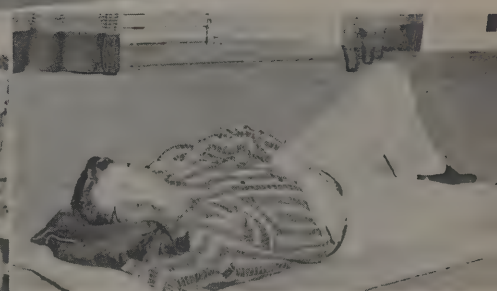

The cartoon must have been sad.

One of the features of an exchange program was the madrigal group from Luther College at Wahoo.

Our senate entertains Peru's senate at a dinner before the Wesleyan-Peru basketball game.

Bill Minchow woke up long enough to walk from convocation to the student union.

The snack bar is no place for a girl, or is it?

Future Teachers of America strives to provide opportunities for students to learn about the teaching profession, to develop the qualities of a good teacher and to encourage student leadership.

The FTA annually sponsors a banquet for Wesleyan graduates during teachers' convention and gives a Valentine party for the children at White Hall. In the spring, supervising teachers were honored at the traditional coffee hour. FTA also presented a chapel program.

Under the leadership of the president, Joan Johnson, and sponsors Miss Clark, Dr. Evans, and Mr. Sederburg, the group had a busy and successful year.

Joan Johnson, Frank Mills, Jeanne Lindstrom, Ron Joekel, and Faye Martens represented Wesleyan at the FTA celebrities' dinner in Kearney.

international relations caravan

Foreign students sponsored by the IRC—Toshiro Isa, Demetrio Ung Leon, Valerie Ramones, Milton Gouvea, Erich Frey, Soung Yang

Student caravans provide an ideal means of increasing the contact of foreign students with the people whose country they are studying.

The International Caravan was at first only an experiment and a pilot project. But its success in the last five years clearly shows what has been done by groups of students who felt helpless in the midst of hatred, misunderstanding, and war, and who wanted a tool with which to work.

This caravan is entirely self-supporting, and the students themselves organize their programs for the tours, and promote their own activities. The motto—"Peace through Understanding."

A large sign in Old Main and 70 yellow sweaters in the halls—it is the first football game, and the Yellers of the Brown are on the job! These coeds participated in the half-time inaugural ceremony honoring Chan Forrest, and their bon-fire rally and snake dance rallied in the homecoming pre-game festivities.

Parents' night found the pepsters honoring Mom and Dad with huge letters and special yells. Auction time kept the Yellers busy as they worked hard to bring in money to assure a successful All-Sports Banquet.

After this top-notch event the gold sweaters and brown beanies were checked in after another fun-filled and "yelled-out" year for the Yellers of the Brown.

Women's Athletic Association provides activity opportunities for many girls. Teams from the four sororities and the Barbs compete in badminton, ping pong, basketball, and volleyball games under the intramural program. Girls earning sufficient number of points in sports and in selling concessions at football and basketball games are eligible for membership.

The most widely recognized men on campus are the 58 Plainsman athletes who proudly wear large yellow and brown "W's" on their jackets. Men earning a letter in any varsity sport are eligible for membership.

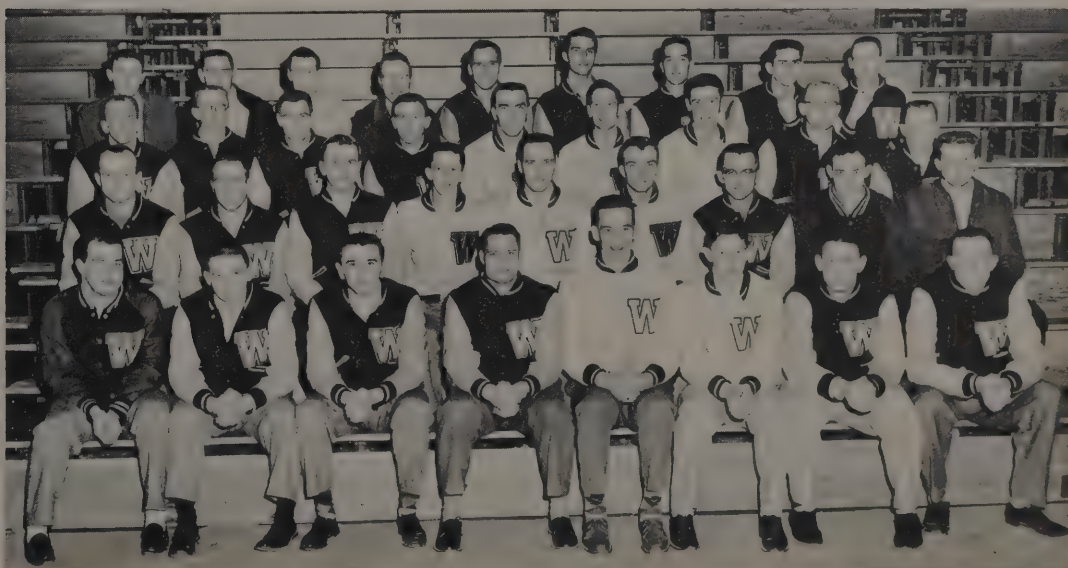

Activities include selling programs and refreshments during football and basketball seasons and electing the W Club sweetheart for homecoming.

Under the direction of Oscar "Pop" Bennett, Wesleyan presented an eighteenth century tragi-comedy by Strauss. The Plainsman Theatre production marked the first time that "Der Rosenkavalier" ("The Knight of the Rose") had been performed in the United States by an amateur group. More students—cast, orchestra, "behind-the-scenes" workers—were involved in this production than in any other extra-curricular activity on campus.

The latest style witch—Mrs. Mc-Thing!

"Mrs. McThing," the first Plainsman production of the 1954-55 season, took us into the realm of fantasy. The plot revolved around a wealthy woman, two small children, and a gang of underworld characters.

Hon. Ernest Wooley's hilarity is about to be "dampened" by Crichton.

the admirable crichton

J. M. Barrie's story revolves around the aristocratic English family with Lew Hunter as the Earl of Loam and his daughters played by Sandra Hendricksen, Dorothy Christner, and Carolyn Rudd, the leading lady. They are shipwrecked on a tropical island and experience a reversal in their social order when Rollie Barron portraying the noble butler, the admirable Crichton, assumes authority and proves the implications of his name. A bit of humor is added by Jay Newbury as Tweeny and Richard Haller as Hon. Ernest Wooley. Other members of the cast included Gene Braymen as Lord Brockelhurst, Marlys Nelson as his mother, the Countess, and Paul Davidson in the role of the Rev. John Treherne. Jean Barber was student director.

The cast and crew assemble after the final performance.

"Ethan Frome," taken from Edith Wharton's outstanding novel, was the last Plainsman production. It is an account of personal tragedy on a bleak New England farm involving a domineering wife, submissive husband, and an innocent hired girl.

Ethan and Mattie pause a moment before attempting suicide by sliding down a hill into a large tree.

Leonard Paulson, the director of Wesleyan's twenty-seven member male chorus was assisted by John Cole as student director and Hal Smith as accompanist on the club's forty-fifth annual tour. The group traveled more than 1600 miles and presented 40 concerts. In the program of secular and religious numbers, features were quartets, vocal solos, and a special harmonica concert by Toshiro Isa.

Besides going on tour throughout Nebraska and parts of Wyoming, the chorus participated in the opera, "Der Rosenkavalier."

The glee club gave concerts in twenty-one western and southern Nebraska cities and towns on its 19th annual tour. Mrs. Adelaide Spurgin replaced Miss Mary Holding who is studying in Italy. She was assisted by Beverly George, student director. Special interest was added to the programs by the performances of the barberette quartet, trio, duet, and soloists. During the first semester the club sang at the Chancellor's inauguration and gave a program in chapel at Christmas time.

Each spring the board reviews applications for the five top positions on student publications and announces its selections before school closes.

The Barbs put up homecoming decorations this year for the first time.

Barbs, a large, coed social group, with membership open to all, looks back upon a year of fun and achievement. This year's memories include hour dances in the student union and at the Farmhouse fraternity at the University of Nebraska, skating parties at the Arena Roller Skating Club, serenades at Johnson Hall and the sororities, weekly programs, the traditional Christmas formal at East Hills, and the spring formal at Cotner Terrace.

A major highlight was the winning of the Rowland Haynes Regional Achievement Award at the Independent Student Association convention at Pittsburg, Kansas, in November. This award signifies that the Wesleyan Barbs are the outstanding independent student group of a seven-state area.

Many Barb members received campus recognition during the year. Martin Park was elected freshman class president; John Park became president of Sigma Pi Sigma; Roy Hanson, YMCA president; and Bruce Merchant and Paul Foster, Kappa Chi and Wesley Fellowship prexies respectively, piloted these campus religious organizations through a successful year.

Lou Schweppe was business manager and Wilma Price feature editor of THE 1955 PLAINSMAN. Rex Sample participated in varsity debate and was in tournaments in Nebraska, Kansas, Minnesota, Colorado, and the West Point Academy National Tournament in New York. Gilbert Walters played the lead role in drama, "Ethan Frome."

Marie Hanson was named to Who's Who. Jeanne Lindstrom and Marie were tapped into Cardinal Key, and John Harden was chosen for Blue Key.

Johnson Hall offered almost all the conveniences of home and many that our own homes could not offer, such as the opportunity of being a part of such a large family. In the spacious, modern living room and the private record room we were free to entertain our guests. Evening meals in the dining room were marked by gaiety, as we could get together at the end of the day and discuss our activities, besides learning social graces. Evening devotions played a great part in our spiritual life at Johnson Hall.

Dormitory life was an experience many of us will never have again; and the friendships made through this close association we will hold dear all our lives.

For the men of Crescent, the school year '54-'55 has been an exceptionally good one. In addition to contributing to varsity athletics, Crescent held its own in interfraternity competition.

The humdrum of the usual social life of hour dances and informal parties was capped by the bowery party and the annual silver and blue formal.

Crescent contributed to campus life by providing leadership in forensic honoraries, student government, music, and YMCA. All in all, the year's activities exemplified the Crescent ideals of brotherhood, character, and service.

No sooner had the long lines for registration began than the Taus were busily engaged in campus activities under the leadership of President Bowmaster and a capable council.

From athletics, with Cliff Kahl elected most valuable player of the Wesleyan football team, to forensics, with Mel and Norm Schwenk, Bill Koenig, and Gary Lemmon winning high honors, the Taus circulated in all campus activities.

Bruce Anspaugh and Gary Lemmon were found on the list of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

The Phi Taus were proud again this year to win the scholarship trophy, as they have done every year since the last war.

Highlights of the social season included the picturesque Christmas party and the sweetheart formal held at the Lincoln Hotel.

Reminiscing is fun at Theta Chi. That's because there are always so many good things to think back over.

For instance, there was the traditional orchid formal where the 1955 Dream Girl, Jeana Lee TeSelle Petersen, was revealed. There were hour dances and parties and the fraternity breakfast and picnic at the end of the year. And there were announcements of pinnings and engagements—and the serenades, cigars, and trips to the showers that followed.

Then there was the athletic year. Theta Chi won the intramural football championship. Seven football lettermen of the NCC championship basketball team were men of Theta Chi. Other members participated in varied non-varsity sports.

There were the activities the members engaged in and the honors they earned. Our president was also senior class president. We had three members in Blue Key, and we could claim the presidents of Student Senate, Interfraternity Council, and Nebraska Academy of Sciences. The vice president of Nebraska Academy of Sciences, vice president and secretaries of Sigma Pi Sigma, treasurers of FTA and student Senate, and THE WESLEYAN editor were all Theta Chi's.

Homecoming day was a happy one for Theta Chi. The fraternity won the house decoration contest and two members were attendants to the homecoming queen. But while Theta Chi men are proud of the past, they're hopeful of even better things in the future. And, with a balanced undergraduate membership and twelve new actives, the future for Theta Chi looks bright.

It has been a bright and busy year for the Delta Zetas at 50th and Madison. Five girls who attended National Convention at St. Louis in June returned with a host of new ideas for the coming year and a recording of snappy Delta Zeta tunes which was presented to every Delta Zeta chapter during convention.

In September we serenaded the Wesleyan fraternities presenting each with a platter to be used at hour dances. Once again this year many of our busy Delta Zetas participated in Plainsman Theatre productions; many with principal parts. Others were included in spring tours which took them to different parts of Nebraska and neighboring states.

As Valentines Day rolled around, our Delta Zeta gals presented their second annual Valentine serenade to the fraternities. And February 25th saw 50 gals and their beaux at the annual Delta Zeta rose formal and dinner at the Lincoln Hotel. As winter's cold dreary days came to an end, and the warm spring air returned once more we gave a tea on April 17 at the chapter house in honor of our retiring housemother, Mrs. Carlotta Misner.

These are only a few of the highlights of a successful year for Delta Zeta, and with the enthusiastic support of future DZs our house should see many more.

P is for the Phi Mu spring formal held at the Lincoln Hotel, the edgewater beach and Phi Mu sweet shoppe parties held this year. H is for the hour-dances held with the three fraternities on campus—especially those breakfast hour dances where the dancing is fun and the pancakes and coffee hit the spot. I is for initiation when the pledges become actives of the second oldest national fraternity in the United States. M is for Mother Reynolds, who reigns as queen in our "home away from home." U is for the understanding and unselfishness that each Phi Mu tries to maintain for her sisters at Wesleyan.

The winning of the best booth at the CCD carnival, Bev Monson being an attendant to the homecoming sweetheart, winning first in intramural basketball and soccer baseball, Phi Mu-Theta Chi steak fry, and placing second in homecoming decorations will be remembered by the Phi Mu's of 1954-55.

Just mention the word "remember" to any of Willards, and we'll start reminiscing about our year at Wesleyan.

We'll remember the first fireside and the twenty-one new pledges; the hayrack ride on that crisp clear night and the rose tea; the formal dinner before Christmas; the pinnings, engagements, and sweetheart serenades; the spring formal and the never-to-be-forgotten crest breakfast during our Willard weekend.

We'll remember with pride our accomplishments and honors—our prize winning homecoming decoration, representatives in campus activities, such as, Cardinal Key, Cog's, Who's Who, the theatre, and cheerleaders.

It has been a wonderful year we won't forget.

The 1954 Plainsman football team, coached by Kieth Skogman, bettered the 1953 record, although gaining only three wins and one tie. The Plainsmen only scored 91 points to the opposition's 135, but gave almost every team a real battle and lost several games that could be called heartbreakers. Injuries to some of the key players in midseason hampered the Plainsman chances.

Halfback Cliff Kahl led the Plainsmen in four statistical departments—individual rushing . . 61.1 yards per game average, pass receiving . . catching 10 balls for 194 yards and one touchdown pass, offense . . individual leader, and he led the team in scoring for the second straight year.

Team totals were—rushing . . 1621 yards or game average of 162.1 yards. Wesleyan threw 137 passes, completed 43, had 12 intercepted, and gained a total of 604 yards in the air for a game average of 60.4 yards. Wesleyan had two scoring passes, and the total offensive net gain was 2225 yards gained or a 222.5 yards per game. Opponents yardage gains were 238.2 per game. Wesleyan was penalized 490 yards while opponents lost 513 by penalties. Wesleyan fumbled 26 times and recovered 38 fumbles, while the ten opponents fumbled 41 times and recovered 29 times.

Only three seniors were lost by graduation; so with a veteran team the 1955 season looks brighter.

Men's physical education classes work out on the trampoline.

Wesleyan can boast one of the finest physical education plants—Ira J. Taylor Gymnasium—in this section of the country. This modern gymnasium gives suitable facilities for indoor sports as well as for the development of the physical side of the student.

Outstanding features of this gym include a spacious main playing floor with bleachers to seat 2,700, complete dressing facilities, health offices, trainers' rooms, classrooms for remedial and corrective exercises, a wrestling room, and a lounge.

Seen in the corrective exercise room are Dewey Van Cleave, Bill Minchow, a physical therapy major, and Charles Ege. Paul Fredstrom is on the table.

the fall of 1954

Early in September the Wesleyan campus saw a new crop of freshmen arrive, followed soon by members of the upper classes.

Johnson Hall comes alive when 100 freshmen girls move in. Marilyn Alexander, Ann Horner, and Carole Jenson carry their luggage up the steps into their new home.

Bill Brown barks out some game instructions. Later Eileen Willis, Mary Trail, Mary Williams, Stan McDonald, and LeRoy Willoughby fill their plates.

New girls are entertained after the first day of classes at the YWCA "big sister-little sister" coke party. Karen Norton chats with Lois Vlach, Kay Whitney, Jackie Reno, Marilyn Hahn, Jerry Priesner, Shirley Hutchins, Janet Deckinger, Mary Trail, and Marial Flynn.

Mrs. Luschei answers innumerable questions in helping students register. Seen in her office are Victor Vasquez, Joanne Root, Jody Ourth, Larry Hess, Marilyn Todd, Carol McCoy, Janet Ross, and Ardis Sterner.

Rushees attending a Delta Zeta rush party are Kathy Read, Liz Webster, Phyllis Harvey, and Huberta Beal. During rush week each sorority held open house, "get acquainted" and formal parties, coffee hour, and a Sunday afternoon tea. The climax of rush week is a fireside at each sorority house after preferencing.

The Chancellor's reception is the first formal function of the year. Chan and Mrs. Forrest greet Jerry Price and Larry Sandall after they have been introduced by Mrs. Luschei.

Janet Woodcock, Stan Delahoyde, and Liz Webster, with shoes in hand portray the "well-dressed" Wesleyan freshmen on September 23, 1954.

Traditions Day is but once a year, for which all freshmen are glad. Upperclassmen—in purple, yellow, and red—delight in seeing the strange creatures in green walking around campus all day carrying green bars of soap or green bricks, wearing their clothes backwards, and boys instead of the girls wearing make-up.

Phil Bliss is about to lower the green brick on the toes of Brad Cate, a senior. An unidentified freshman assists by holding Brad's foot, while Phil Towle watches with interest.

Dean Dahl, Chan Forrest, George Knight, Bill Brown, and Rev. Robert Townsend, each "dig in" during the groundbreaking ceremony for the new men's residence hall. This was one of many homecoming activities.

Before the homecoming football game between Wesleyan and Hastings, alums and students gathered in the gym for the chuck wagon feed.

The awards for the best homecoming decorations were presented at halftime. Blaine Rieke accepts the plaque for the winning Theta Chis from Panhellenic president, Lynnette Bush. Carolyn Rudd, Willard prexy, is not going to let anyone get the plaque away from her after it was presented by Frank Harkness, Interfraternity Council president.

Mrs. Swinbank cuts the cake at the 100th birthday celebration of the YWCA while Janet Miller and Virginia Wagner look on. The YMCA members came to sing "happy birthday" and stayed to enjoy games and refreshments.

Crescents didn't shave for weeks prior to their annual bowery party. Duane Bennett and Janet Greenwood received cups for the best costumes. Pete Nelson received one for growing the best beard.

Winter comes to the Wesleyan campus as it takes on a coat of white. The evergreens around old Main proudly show off their branches covered with glistening snow.

The Christmas observance on campus with the matin services held the four days before vacation is sponsored by the "Y." Jean Barber led the worship service the morning Chuck Bagby spoke.

The torch light procession which begins the Noel Observance, concludes with a carol service in front of "Old Main" and the giving of a Christmas present to Chan. Miss Holding leads the songs.

John Park, Bob Jeambey and Rex Sample were the other three matin speakers.

Communion by candlelight is a meaningful event which immediately follows the caroling. Don Overton, Coleen McElwain and Idona Vodohnal receive the sacrament from Chancellor Forrest.

It's 1955 and back to the campus again after vacation.

Classes for second semester have been chosen and the cards are all filled out. Mrs. Luschei does the final checking and then it's on to the treasurer to pay the bill for Beverly Bush, Joellen Kennedy, Paul Foster, Fran Babbel, Joellen Frandsen, and Irene Bloomgren.

Dr. Allan Knight Chalmers from Boston Theological Seminary was the Religious Emphasis Week speaker. Dick Odgers talks with Dr. Chalmers before one of the chapel programs.

parent's night

Something new! Parents were invited to attend the Wesleyan-Chadron basketball game and had a chance to become acquainted with instructors and other students' parents. Over 400 parents came.

Nancy Carter, Jim Klusman, Dorothy Norlin, Coleen McElwain, Karen Norton, and Elaine Hohensee, sort and pack clothes to be sent overseas. The Community Service commission of the Y sponsored the clothing drive.

The survey team, Finch, Blair, Karm, Wicke, Bender, talk with Chancellor Forrest. These men visited our campus for a week, appraised different functions and made suggestions for corrections.

Rex Bevins, chaplain, and Ray Kirk, secretary-treasurer, listen to senior class orator, Bob Jeambey, speak on "So What", on senior recognition day.

Bryan student nurses are capped.

Chancellor Forrest presents the morning meditation during chapel.

The campus chest drive goal was $1,000. After the "kick-off" convocation program, CCD co-chairmen, Carolyn Rudd and Bill Brown look at the thermometer which shows that the goal was met.

While Dr. Hall auctions a late leave, Dean Evans keeps his eye on bidders in the audience at the pep club auction.

Miss Mary Holding, one of our voice instructors, studied in Italy at the University of Milan during the second semester.

Spring days attract many students to the library steps rather than to the study tables inside. Stopping a few minutes to chat are Gordon Metzger, Bob Jewett, Carole Allely, Jack Buckingham, Janet Miller and Jean Leach.

Marie Hanson "taps" Jeana Lee Petersen as a candidate for Cardinal Key.

Vera Janke and Tom Perkins, Roger Hutchings and Wilma Price make plans for the Easter matins, which were held just before spring vacation.

Wes Poe and George Miller receive W Club medallions from coach Kieth Skogman for being selected 1955 alumni honor athletes.

Blaine Rieke, presents Jerry Kroeger with the first annual Blue Key sportsman award at the all-sports banquet.

Dr. Mickey presents the fraternity scholarship trophy to Phi Kappa Tau. President Bill Bowmaster accepts.

At the Panhellenic luncheon, the sorority scholarship trophy was awarded to Alpha Gamma Delta. New President Faye Martens receives the trophy from Miss Halbert.

Dr. Gaston Foote, noted speaker and Methodist minister, was brought to our campus under YM-YWCA sponsorship. Jean Leach checks some information with him.

Jan Pitcaithley, Joan Johnson, Merle McDonald, Earl Veskerna and Mrs. A. Leland Forrest at the FTA tea.

Elaine Krondak and Jerry Kroeger proudly display the trophies they were presented at the Interfraternity dance, where they were revealed as "Big Snob" and "Old Grouch."

Theta Chi dream girl—Jeana Lee Petersen

After having broken through a large paper heart, Larry Abker was crowned "DZ Man" by Ruby Vrana.

Blaine Rieke and Aileen Lowson were elected by the entire student body as "Ideal Plainsman" and "Ideal Plainswoman" respectively. They exemplify the ideal student in class, and on and off campus.

Connie Johnson Robison was announced Phi Kappa Tau sweetheart. Her husband, Mylus, a Phi Tau, was at her hospital bedside to present her a bouquet of roses. The Phi Taus sang their sweetheart song to Connie via long-distance telephone Barb royalty revealed at the Barb formal were Dorcas Marshall, sweetheart, and John Park, beau.

Marilyn Wagner was announced recipient of the AAUW scholarship for the next school year.

Marguerite Harmon Bro, well-known author and lecturer, was brought to our campus by Panhellenic Council to speak at a Tuesday chapel and several times during the day.

Chancellor Clifford Hardin, University of Nebraska, spoke at honors day convocation.

Mrs. Mary Kinnier, secretary to Chancellor Forrest, pauses in her work long enough to have her picture taken.

Here in THE 1955 PLAINSMAN are some images and incidents to blend with the fondest of your recollections as you broaden the span of your years. There are pictures we do not have, but as you leaf through these pages in future years, may your memory be renewed once more — familiar scenes which have grown dim, experiences which have been forgotten, athletic championships and defeats which have faded into unreality, making you remember the happy and profitable times at Nebraska Wesleyan.

Many thanks to those who made this book possible.
